welcome to Gametime!

you will only see this screen the first time you sign up, or if for some reason you log out of the app. (why would you do that you strange, strange person.)

disclaimer: this app is built for android. what you are seeing in this mockup is an android device....that just happens to look like some other type of device that shall not be named.

see! this is all we need to get you started.

get creative! this is
how the people you
share your data with
will identify you.

just in case you ever
forget your password.
(don't worry, we will save the day)

we have powers. we can help you remember your password. it's pretty much magic.

your settings.

manage your game data from here. don't want people to know how much time you spend playing Fluffy Flying Cats? no worries, we got your back.

sorting options include:
hours played
data used
battery life spent

additional functionality for game tiles to be added in future

your game data, fast!

as soon as you open the gametime app, all your data is presented to you in a simple & clean interface.

Day, Month, Year

your friends.

on this screen, you can navigate to any one of your friend's profiles and check out how much time they also waste on games.

we recommend doing this, it'll make you feel better.

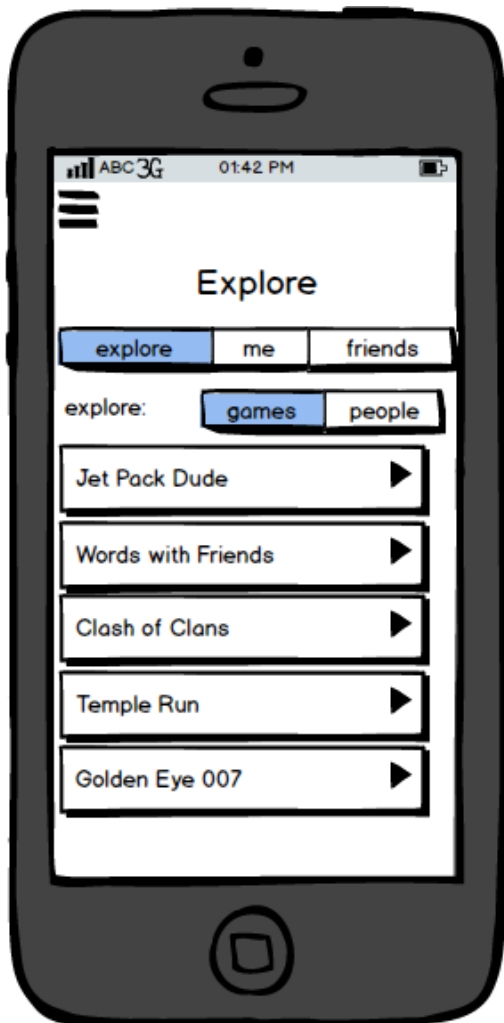

add people that you know, or people that you don't know...whatever floats your boat.

click on any one of your friend's names to view their profile

welcome to the explore page.

exploring will give you
suggestions of games
to check out, based on the games you have
on your device and
what your friends are playing.

in the future, you will also be able explore
other people's game
data, if they choose to make it public. see
how your data
matches up with people from all around the world!

here's all the stuff Damon is playing right now.

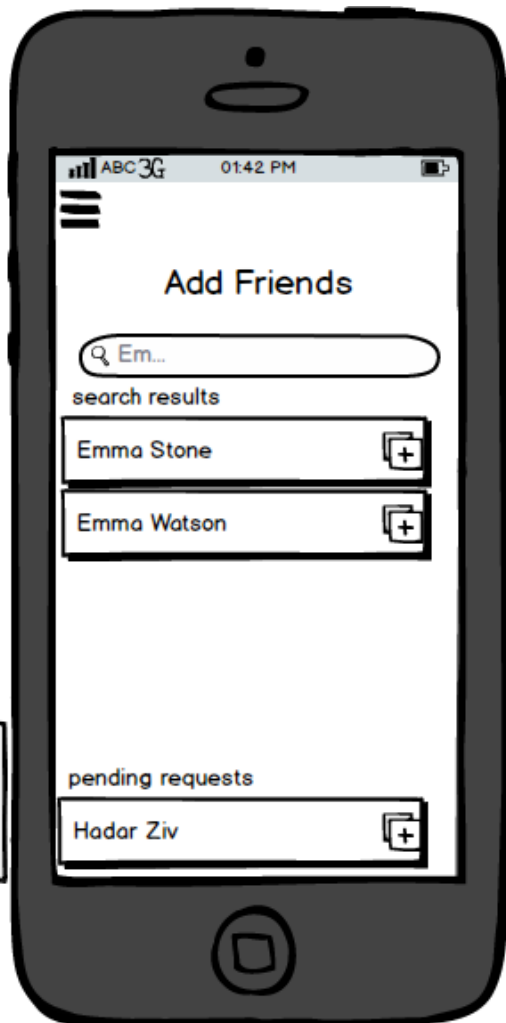

see a game that Damon has and you might want to check out? in the future we will have added capabilities to download games that your friends are playing.

add friends!

search for friends by username, email, or their real names (if they provide them)

it's almost always a bad idea to let your professor see your
game data.
